

Editorial task: a pleasure within

Editorial

Before two years, I became aware about the commencement of Biodiversity International Journal (BIJ), published by MedCrave Group, USA. I got the principal official welcome from article leading group of BIJ to audit an original copy on multi-disciplinary aspects of biodiversity. Afterward, being familiar with the journal's multi-disciplinary facets, I began a formal discussion with publication board about the journal's morals, strategy, organization, and terms and conditions. Quickly, I was prevailing to review no less than one manuscript for every month. For a limited capacity to focus time, I highlighted to review something like a few original copies of manuscript a month for BIJ. For a couple of months, I upgraded assessing articles on my expertise such as Biology, Environment, Biodiversity, and Conservation.

Investigating the calculable expeditiousness and quick quickness of whole publication group of BIJ, I was suited in BIJ's Reviewer Board as an Official Reviewer. In the wake of filling in as a committed Reviewer, I got a gigantic chance to be an Associate Editor of BIJ. Considering my earnestness and precision in submitting reviewed articles in stipulated timeframe, I was credited an Associate Editor of BIJ. In the wake of joining as an Associate Editor, I began imparting my insights, perspectives, thoughts, and proposals for the improvement and upliftment of BIJ, among academic network, academicians, researchers, and consultants.

At this moment, I feel respect and upbeat to be a member of BIJ family. As far as anyone is concerned, Biodiversity International Journal (BIJ) is a network peer explored open access journal, intended to quicken distributing, dispersal, and sharing of biodiversity-related information, adds to the development and societal significance of biodiversity. I consider BIJ as one of the most reputed journal, which covers practically all the thriving aspects of biodiversity for example Species Dynamics, Population Ecology, Community Ecology, Habitat and Ecosystem Ecology, Taxonomy and so on.

The journal (BIJ) itself is a signpost and milestone for accomplishing the achievements to feature and combat the challenging areas of biodiversity for the welfare of humankind and development of societal improvement. The arrangement, morals and configuration of BIJ is so clear and explained in a respectful mold that any individual could see even its objectives and recognitions from academic or research network in any edge of the world. BIJ is invested with countless
