

Why do we need alternative medicine?

Abstract

It is high time for our medicine to acknowledge the fact that we are different and average patient is a very rough approximation. The patients need to be divided into at least three groups: low sensitivity, middle sensitivity, and high sensitivity to drugs. The article offers to measure the electrical sensitivity of the patients to determine their drug-sensitivity because they are both determined by the amount of released neurotransmitters (NT) at each junction. The drug dose needs to be prescribed according to patients' sensitivity – it must be lowest for high-sensitive patients and highest for low-sensitive patients. The drug-sensitivity goes hand in hand with emotional-sensitivity because they both depend on the amount of NT released at each junction. The division of the patients into 3 groups (low sensitivity, middle sensitivity, and high sensitivity) is absolute necessity because the highly-emotional and drug-sensitive individuals when taking the high drug dose tailored for low-sensitive people, are more poisoned than helped. However, these sensitive individuals respond better to the milder alternative medicine: herbs, acupuncture, Reiki treatments, and homeopathic remedies. Also, their chances for spontaneous remission, cure with autosuggestion, or cure with prayer are higher. All said means that one simple measurement of patients' electrical sensitivity could determine whether pharmaceutical or alternative medicine will be most appropriate for the individual.

Keywords: no average patient, 3 drug-sensitivity levels, alternative medicine for highly sensitive, drug medicine for low sensitive, electrical measurements for drug sensitivity

Introduction

Why are we different? Why we need to have at least 3 groups of patients – patients with high, middle, and low drug sensitivity? We need this because the most sensitive individuals (drug and emotionally sensitive) are more poisoned than helped by the strong pharmaceutical drugs tailored for the low sensitive, who are majority. Since the alternative medicine is much milder, it will be most appropriate for these emotionally-sensitive and drug-sensitive individuals. But why are we so different? What makes us different? Two identical twins with the same DNA are totally different personalities – they are emotionally different. This should tell us that we are not only material body.

Dr. Valerie Hunt studied the biofield of our body her entire life. She found that 90% of the people on Earth have frequency of their biofield 200 Hz. Only 10 % of the people have frequency of their biofield between 400 and 800 Hz, and these are the people, who are intuitive and experience telepathy and clairvoyance. These 10% of people are more drug sensitive and emotionally sensitive, and these sensitive individuals are the ones that will need alternative medicine because the pharmaceutical medicine is too strong for them. The biofield, which Dr. Valerie Hunt studied, is what some individuals see as aura.

About our aura (spirit)

My studies of the aura (with Kirlian photography, which uses high frequency electric field to multiply the photons of the weak aura and make it photographable) found that the aura is emotionally sensitive – it shines brighter at positive emotions and it is dimmer at negative emotions. Since when we experience positive emotions and the aura is brighter, we say we are in high Spirit, I concluded that the aura must be our Spirit. I found confirmation of my conclusion in ancient texts – the Jewish Cabala was teaching to high priests that “the aura is our Spirit”. Also, since dead person does not have aura, the aura must be the Spirit that makes the body have aura and be alive. (Since “aura” means “light” in Hebrew – our Spirit is light, but it is not the light we see with our eyes).

Thus, we are a material body and Spirit – a field that brings life to the body. When the activating Spirit leaves, the material body is a lifeless empty shell that needs to be discarded. German medical doctor first measured with very sensitive scale the weight of his patients before they died and after they died. He found that after they died, they were only 21g lighter. This was confirmed in 1907 by measurements of Dr. McDougall (Massachusetts). Is this the weight of the Spirit? My lifelong studies of the aura found that the aura is weak nonlinear electromagnetic field (NEMF), but this weak NEMF is informational and rules and regulates everything in the material body not with its strength but with the information it carries.

Ancient Chinese texts claim that the fields are also matter, but a different much-lighter field-form of matter. Are the 21 g less weight of the dead person the weight of the Spirit that left? Kundalini Yoga teaches that there are two intertwining energy spirals running along the backbone. The spiral running upward is the energy spiral of the material body. The spiral running downward is the energy spiral of the Spirit. The two spinning-in- opposite-directions energy spirals create magnetic fields with opposite polarity. This makes the Spirit field (NEMF2) magnetically attached to the top of the field of the material body (NEMF1) (Figure 1).

The reason why our science still denies the existence of the Spirit is: the field of the Spirit NEMF2 is 1,000 times weaker than the field of the material body NEMF1, and it remains undetected. However, how does this weak field of the Spirit NEMF2 rules and regulates everything in the body? The answer is - not with its strength, but with the information it carries (nonlinear fields can imprint information). Embryo cannot start developing unless the Spirit NEMF2 is present in the fertilized cell to bring the information what type of emotional personality the future individual is going to be.

Our scientists denied the existence of the Spirit and consider only the matter (DNA) important. But the fact that two identical twins with the same DNA are totally different personalities should tell them that there must be something more than the DNA. What makes the twins different personalities are their different emotional Spirits. And if each one of us is emotionally different, it is because we have different emotional Spirits. Also, our Spirits have different intellectual (Spiritual) levels, and each level has different aura (Spirit) shape.² The shape of the aura (Spirit) for Spiritual level 9 is pictured on Figure 2.

How spirituality relates to our emotional, stress, and drug sensitivity?

Thus, the aura includes: the NEMF1 of the material body, which has 7 energy levels (Figure 1) and magnetically attached on top of it is the NEMF2 of the Spirit, which also has seven energy levels.² However, the last two Spiritual levels can be achieved only in the Spiritual realm in groups of Spirit. On Earth only 5 Spiritual levels can be achieved: 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th. Figure 2 pictures the shape of the aura (Spirit) NEMF at level 9. At each next Spiritual level (as the frequency of the aura (Spirit) grows) the light ball on top of the head shifts one foot higher.²

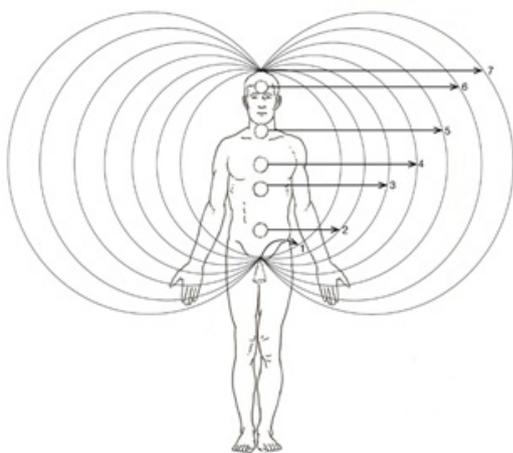

Figure 1 The seven energy levels of the man’s body NEMF and the seven alternating vortices (spinning clockwise) and anti-vortices (spinning counterclockwise) of this NEMF along the backbone.

And the higher is the Spiritual and Intellectual level of an individual (or the higher is the frequency of his Spirit), the higher is his sensitivity – drug sensitivity and emotional (stress) sensitivity.¹ And the drug-sensitive individuals are usually also food sensitive, sensitive to external fields like microwaves, etc. Also, as I said in my article,¹ more sensitive people have more neurotransmitters emitted at each neuro-junction. It seems that as the Spiritual level grows, and the frequency of the Spirit grows, the amount of the released neurotransmitters at each junction grows. This makes the more Spiritual individuals more sensitive – drug sensitive and emotionally (stress) sensitive.

The sensitive intellectuals will need alternative medicine

The sensitive individuals (emotionally (stress) and drug sensitive) are the ones, who would need alternative medicine because the pharmaceutical drugs are too strong for them.³ Since there is no creativity without emotions, these emotionally sensitive individuals are the creative intellectuals, who move the development of our civilization ahead. And these individuals, being most sensitive to drugs, suffer most from the drug treatments, which our “civilization” offers. It is time to become more civilized and embrace the alternative medicine as alternative method of cure, which is most suitable for these most emotionally sensitive and creative individuals, who move the development of our civilization ahead.

Why is the alternative medicine most suitable for the most sensitive intellectuals?

In my book: “Modern Aspects of Ancient Acupuncture”,⁴ and articles published in journals,^{5,6} I revealed how acupuncture works. It works through the waves of the Spirit’s NEMF2. My long journey to understanding the importance of the waves in acupuncture started with the nonlinear mathematical model, which I created for one acupuncture meridian and reported at 8th World Congress on Acupuncture in 1983.⁴ Each acupuncture meridian is a chain of acupuncture points, which are conducting ellipses oriented with their long axes along the acupuncture meridian, and imbedded in the semi conductive media of the body. Such inhomogeneous media can be described mathematically only with nonlinear equations and nonlinear equations have more than one solution. My equation had two solutions – electric impulse and wave.⁴

Electric impulse running from the treated acupuncture point along the acupuncture meridian was measured by the Chinese, but nobody has measured waves. I bravely announced that waves must also run from the treated acupuncture point along the acupuncture meridian. The Hungarian scientist A. Eory showed interest in my finding and invited me to give the same talk at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences. His project was funded and a year later he announced they found waves running from the treated acupuncture point in direction of the acupuncture meridian. But they also found that waves run along the acupuncture meridians all the time and each acupuncture treatment generates a wave that modifies the constantly running waves.⁴

The Hungarians didn’t show any interest in finding out what kind of waves run along the acupuncture meridians all the time, but I did, and I made a series of very interesting discoveries described in my articles.^{5,6} The acupuncture meridians run downward on the back. Along them run the NEMF waves, which scan the new environment, and since nonlinear fields can imprint information, they imprint the information about the new environment. The acupuncture meridians run upward in front of the body and the NEMF waves running along them bring the imprinted information about the new environment to the brain telling it how to change the body to adapt to the new environment. So, the unlimited possibility of all living being to adapt is done through the waves of their Spirits, which run along the acupuncture meridians.^{5,6}

If the environment is drastically new, the experiments of Dr. Levin^{7,8} showed that first the NEMF changes to adapt to the new environment, and only if the new environment stay the same for a long time, the changed NEMF leads to changed DNA (new species). How wise! Thus, the evolution of all living beings to new species is done with waves, and if so we can now understand why the evolution is done with quantum jump without intermediate species. If the theory of Darwin for the survival of the fittest was right, there should be intermediate species, but there are no such. Since the evolution of all living beings to new species is done without intermediate species, with quantum jumps, the adaptation is done through the waves of the aura (Spirit) NEMF.^{9,10}

Now, knowing that each acupuncture treatment generates a wave modifying the constantly running waves along the acupuncture meridians (of the aura (Spirit)), we can understand why acupuncture is going to be the best cure for highly sensitive individuals, who are spiritual intellectuals with high energy (frequency) of their Spirit. Being more emotionally (stress) sensitive and drug sensitive, their reaction to the acupuncture treatment will be stronger and for them acupuncture will be more efficient. These sensitive spiritual intellectuals will also achieve easier spontaneous remission, and their response reaction to homeopathic remedies¹¹ and herbal remedies¹² will be stronger.

Considering the fact that the emotional and drug-sensitive individuals have larger amounts of released neurotransmitters (which are electrically charged) at each neurosynaptic junction, I offered to measure the persons' electrical sensitivity to determine their emotional and drug sensitivity. One simple measurement¹³ will determine whether pharmaceutical medicine or alternative medicine will be most appropriate for the individual.

I not only explained scientifically how acupuncture works,⁴⁻⁸ I am the only scientist that explained scientifically how homeopathic remedies work.¹¹ It is true that the homeopathic remedies are so diluted that no substance is left, but the frequencies of the substance are imprinted on the liquid water. Yes, liquid water has memory because when the ice melts only 40% of the hydrogen bonds are torn, which makes the liquid water chunks of ice crystals imbedded in liquid water. These crystals of ice in the liquid water make the water capable to memorize, just as our computers memorize with the crystals of their chips.¹¹

I am also the only scientist who measured the energy healing of Reiki Healers,¹⁴ but I had to build up a very sensitive equipment to do this. I have the proof that the energy healing is not only in the heads of the people, there is a real energy transfer passing through the Reiki Healer and going to the patient. And after I measured the Reiki Healers and their patents before and after energy healing, I have the proof that their statement that when healing the patient, the Reiki Healers heal themselves is right.¹⁴

Conclusion

I hope I have convinced you that: 1/ the best medicine for sensitive individuals is alternative medicine because it is milder; 2/ the alternative medicine is more efficient when used on sensitive individuals, who have more neurotransmitters released at each neurosynaptic junction, which makes them more emotionally sensitive (stress sensitive) and drug sensitive. However, their higher sensitivity makes: 1/ the effect of mild stressors like acupuncture bigger (because bigger quants of energy are added at each acupuncture treatment) and 2/ the effect of homeopathic remedies and Reiki healing on them is stronger.
