

The crisis of ethical values in current medicine

Volume 15 Issue 3 - 2022

Editorial

It is difficult to begin with this editorial but the truth is that I will begin by saying that there are many aspects regarding our training as doctors that at the dawn of time and with the years that we have accumulated experience not only in our career but in life we realize that many dogmas in what they made us believe are not true, for this reason I will speak that the current medicine of our days has a before and an after and specifically I refer to this plandemic called Covid-19 and it was supposedly produced by a bat and pangolin virus being the SARSCOV-2 virus is responsible for this disease. In the attempt to find the positive things that covid left us, perhaps the most outstanding are having highlighted the turbidity behind not only the pharmaceutical industry but also scientific studies, specialized publications and "experts". "that guided us from the media even without having treated a single patient with this disease. The covid also made it possible to see more clearly the corruption in the main health agencies. And, as if that were not enough, this disease confirmed something that had been known for a long time: the uselessness of the World Health Organization, an entity that, far from looking after the well-being of the world's population, looks after the interests of its main financiers, such as the new "pandemic guru", Bill Gates. All these sinister actors, who make up a health system that can no longer be trusted, were left naked.

Let's start with the preparation 2 years before this plandema, the WHO began with a worldwide vaccination program especially in people over 60 years of age with the famous "Influenza Vaccine" our group of doctors for the truth and biologists for the truth demonstrated that a very toxic substance called "GRAPHENE OXIDE" had been incorporated into the vials of said vaccine, which is known to all to have 28 toxic actions on our body, especially at the brain, cardiovascular, liver, adrenal, bone marrow, etc. levels. They were inoculated in the deltoid then in the laboratory of Wuhan (China) human ARM molecule was manipulated and joined to ARM made in a computer laboratory and that is called recombinant and therefore it is a "CODEX" not a virus as they have wanted it to be we create. This CODEX was scattered through the air through of airplanes who spread it through all the countries of the planet except Africa and when this codex came into contact with the patients vaccinated with Graphene Oxide in the vials of the so-called influenza vaccine, it produced an exacerbated immunological reaction and thousands of people ended up intubated in the ICU dying 100%. It was a genocidal justification to start with the largest experiment in Humans ever seen in all of history, the WHO declares a pandemic and the unjustified use of the so-called Vaccine because what it really is Experimental Gene Therapy whose first phase ends in September 2022 and ends in December 2023. They invented a disease called "COVID-19 produced by SARS-COV2. On multiple occasions I asked world-renowned scientific journals, through social networks and other electronic media, where the virus that produces COVID-19 is cultivated, isolated and purified, not obtaining any response, rather they blocked me on almost all social networks. There he showed me the great corruption of American universities in quotes of great prestige, as well as Medical Magazines and let's not say the pharmaceutical industry that together with the complicity of the aforementioned become genocidal. There is and will

Hugo Alfonso Chinchilla Calix

Interventional Cardiologist, Military Hospital, USA

Correspondence: Hugo Chinchilla Calix, Interventional Cardiologist, Military Hospital, Tegucigalpa, Honduras, El Ocotal, Francisco Morazan, USA, Tel (504) 33326536, Email hugo_chinchilla@hotmail.com

Received: May 29, 2022 | Published: June 02, 2022

be no justification for massive inoculations regardless of the brand of the so-called vaccines. From my hospital and private clinical practice, therefore, I am a General Cardiologist, Interventional Cardiologist and with 6 more subspecialties. I have seen that as the population is inoculated with 1,2,3,4, doses, the effects are especially at the cerebral level with an increase of 1000%, cardiac with an increase of 500%: Fulminant myocarditis, acute myocardial infarctions with high content thrombotic, pulmonary embolism, tachycardia in young people up to 170 beats per minute, Cancer of different types with an increase of 400%, increase in immunopathies like never seen before: Lupus, arthritis, etc. I have performed D-dimer, Ferritin, CRP, VES, ProBNP and troponins on all inoculated people and almost 70% are highly altered. I will speak very soon in a very extensive article about the microscope findings that I have found in inoculated people, I have taken a blood sample, I place it on the slide, extend the sample and cover it with the coverslip and analyze it under the microscope optical evidencing graphene oxide which, as is known, produces 28 toxic effects at different cellular levels. That is why from the beginning of this editorial I mention medicine before and after. And the after is how to treat this population that already has an irreversible and cumulative substance in its body to get her out. That is why I have encouraged myself not to remain silent because the world medical community is blind because it continues to treat the patient as if it were yesterday and today it is a dark reality, with irreversible deleterious actions but we can among all the doctors who become aware when reading this editorial and for this genocide that apparently continues since we are now seeing the effects of graphene oxide on our immune system evidenced in skin lesions misnamed "MONKEYPOX".

We must put a stop in the world about this genocide planned by psychotic minds, I will write about 4 articles with evidence of heart disease in very young people and with great affectation of the heart muscle and especially the cardiac electrical conduction system.

On a global level, the great concern I have is that large companies and governments have used an experimental injection of lipid nanoparticles in an mRNA sequence. Now they think they have carte blanche to use this in the world. They say now we are going to make influenza, RSV, and HIV vaccines with this new lipid nanoparticle in mRNA technology. There is no evidence to show that this is safe. We know that lipid nanoparticles go everywhere. We know that pseudouridine mRNA suppresses the immune system. So they think they can advance humanity by doing this and throw out all the previous vaccine technology. It's a horrible idea because it suppresses the immune system. I have seen an increase in cancer cases due to the suppression of the immune system, which makes people more susceptible to other viruses in the body being aroused. So my concern is that we push this technology and basically people who don't know the depth of science, they think well that's what they're doing now, I'm going to get vaccinated next fall against that virus or that virus.

And from a global health perspective, we have a poor diet, people eat too much, they consume too much sugar, too much high fructose corn syrup, too many inflammatory oils (canola, corn, soy), so we have a population with high inflammation and immunosuppression. We have lost basic constructs of health, we are in this one pill cure construct, we trust big systems, we trust pharmaceutical companies, instead of taking charge of our individual health... I tell people that they are the best doctor you will ever meet. It is up to you to know your body, what things to eliminate from your life, what things to modify. We've changed these big systems and now, because of what they've done to so many billions of people, we've put people in a state of immunocompromise, on top of what already existed as a result of poor global health.

On a global level, the great concern I have is that large companies and governments have used an experimental injection of lipid nanoparticles in an mRNA sequence. Now they think they have carte blanche to use this in the world. They say now we are going to make influenza, RSV, and HIV vaccines with this new lipid nanoparticle in mRNA technology. There is no evidence to show that this is safe. We know that lipid nanoparticles go everywhere. We know that pseudouridine mRNA suppresses the immune system. So they think they can advance humanity by doing this and throw out all the previous vaccine technology. It's a horrible idea because it suppresses the immune system. I have seen an increase in cancer cases due to the suppression of the immune system, which makes people more susceptible to other viruses in the body being aroused. So my concern is that we push this technology and basically people who don't know the depth of science, they think well that's what they're doing now, I'm going to get vaccinated next fall against that virus or that virus.

And from a global health perspective, we have a poor diet, people eat too much, they consume too much sugar, too much high fructose corn syrup, too many inflammatory oils (canola, corn, soy), so we have a population with high inflammation and immunosuppression. We have lost basic constructs of health, we are in this one pill cure construct, we trust big systems, we trust pharmaceutical companies, instead of taking charge of our individual health... I tell people that they are the best doctor you will ever meet. It is up to you to know your body, what things to eliminate from your life, what things to modify. We've changed these big systems and now, because of what they've done to so many billions of people, we've put people in a state of immunocompromise, on top of what already existed as a result of poor global health.

Acknowledgments

None.

Conflicts of interest

None.